

We shall See
Faiz Ahmad Faiz

We shall Witness
It is certain that we too, shall witness the day that has been promised of which has been written on the slate of eternity
When the enormous mountains of tyranny blow away like cotton.
Under our feet- the feet of the oppressed-when the earth will pulsate deafeningly and on the heads of our rulers when lightning will strike.
From the abode of God
When icons of falsehood will be taken out,
When we- the faithful- who have been barred out of sacred places will be seated on high cushions When the crowns will be tossed,
When the thrones will be brought down.
Only The name will survive
Who cannot be seen but is also present Who is the spectacle and the beholder, both I am the Truth- the cry will rise,
Which is I, as well as you
And then God's creation will rule
Which is I, as well as you
We shall Witness
It is certain that we too, shall witness
